ABOUT JUST-IN TIME

Justin and Tia Mason are the founders of Just-In Time. Just-In Time is a brand that is made up of four companies - Just-In Time Cleaning Services, Just-In Time Auto Detailing, Just-In Time Investments, and Just-In Time Consulting. The cleaning entity of the company specializes in the cleanliness and maintenance of commercial spaces, the detailing entity of the company is a full-service mobile automotive detailing company that specializes in bringing life and luster back to vehicles one car at a time, the investment entity of the company specializes in taking real estate that's deemed as "ugly" and "beautifying" it for the people we are led to sell them to, and last but not least – the consulting entity of the company provides business consultation services to entrepreneurs who want to fulfill and excel in the role of entrepreneurship.

GOING FROM IDEAS TO EXECUTION

Just-In Time tries to remain in touch with our past (and future clientele) through branding our integrity. There are thousands of commercial cleaners, auto detailers, investors, and business consultants...however; there's only one Justin and Tia Mason, and we try to give our very best effort in whatever we do. The image of your business and brand is one of the most important characteristics of your company. If you want your company to have a lifeline of its own, we recommend first lifting it up to God (he's the one who gave you the business mindset in the first place, whether you admit it or not), then you must be fully committed to it. Your company must take over your entire personality - COMPLETE UTTER OBSESSION! One of the most factual statements we tell our clients who consult with us is: "It may not be selling out YET, it may not have many clients YET, but you must personally believe that if you treat your business like a million-dollar company, others will eventually do the same". We've watched and learned that if you treat your brand/business like a side hustle, it's always going to be just that; nothing more, nothing less. Consistency is key, even when no one else believes it. You may not have a huge following yet, but if you remain consistent, your dedication will show people just how much passion you have for it... they will have no choice but to care also - EVERY LITTLE DETAIL MATTERS WHEN IT COMES TO YOUR BRAND! #KEEPPGOING!
